Judging Criteria

- Does the story address the topic in an imaginative, creative, or unexpected way?
- Does the author create a clear and coherent story where something happens?
- Does the story contain a theme or idea?
- Does the quality of the author's writing enhance the story?
- Is the story compelling? Did it have a memorable impact on the reader?

Judging Mechanics

- Judging will be blind.
- Stories will be judged in two rounds.
- In the first round, Community Volunteers will score the stories using a rubric.
- The top scoring story in each topic and youth author category will be submitted to Ethos Literacy's Board of Directors for the second round of judging.
- In the second round, the Board of Directors will judge the stories using a rubric. The Board will break tied scores (if any) and will choose the Best in Contest Winner.
- Scoring sheets will not be made available for review by authors.
- The judges' decisions are final.

People's Choice Prize

- Second place stories in each topic and youth author category will be submitted to the public on Ethos Literacy website to choose the People's Choice Prize.
- The story that receives the most votes will win the People's Choice Prize.

Publication

- Ethos Literacy will publish the winning and honorable mention stories in a e-magazine which will be disseminated on its website and social media platforms.
- Authors agree Ethos Literacy may publish the stories.

Prohibitions

- Ethos Literacy staff, board members and their immediate families are prohibited from participating in the contest.
- Judges and their immediate families are prohibited from participating in the contest.

Copyright

The author retains copyright to the work.

Notification to Authors

Contest participants will be notified of the results in February or March 2023.
